Crime Rise Noted In Nation, State

WASHINGTON (AP) — Criminals killed more than 20,000 people and stole property worth $2.6 billion as crime in the United States increased 18 per cent last year, the FBI said today in its final 1974 report on crime.

Thieves made off with loot valued at more than the Justice Department's annual budget and more than twice what it takes to run the city of Chicago for a year.

Teen-agers were arrested for nearly one-third of the 10 million crimes reported to police, although persons from 10 to 17 account for only 16 per cent of the nation's population.

About half of all those arrested for burglaries, motor vehicle thefts and larcenies were teen-agers, the report said.

Firearms were used in 68 per cent of all murders, 44 per cent of the robberies, and 25 per cent of the serious assaults, the report said.

The grim statistics emerged from the FBI's annual report and analysis of the number of offenses and arrests reported to virtually all state and local law enforcement agencies. The FBI and other experts say many more crimes are never reported to police. The FBI earlier had estimated there were 17 per cent more crimes committed in 1974 than a year earlier. The final report showed the increase actually was 18 per cent.

The crime rate is the number of offenses per 100,000 citizens.

"These final figures merely underscore what we already know. The problem of serious crime is immense," said Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi. "A coordinated national response by all segments of the criminal justice system and at all levels of society is vital if we are to bring this problem under control."

There were 4,821 crimes per 100,000 citizens in 1974, the report said.

Increases were recorded for all sections of the country and for all seven crime categories measured — murder, rape, robbery, assault, burglary, larceny and vehicle theft.

The violent crimes of murder, rape and assault account for hardly more than a halfmillion of all reported offenses.

The far more numerous cases of robbery, burglary, larceny and vehicle theft cost the nation an estimated $2.6 billion. The report said police recovered loot valued at $821 million, about 31 per cent of the total.

The statistics showed a marked increase in the number of teen-agers arrested for murder as well as for robbing and stealing. Ten per cent of the 16,000 persons charged with homicide were under 18.

During the past five years, the report said, "there was a 51 per cent increase in the number of persons under 18 years of age arrested for murder." By contrast, the number of adults arrested for murder increased only 29 per cent during the same period.

"In the suburban areas," the report said, "the involvement of the young age groups in police arrests is markedly higher than the national figures. In the rural areas the distributions were lower for the younger age groups."

Both violent and property crime increased in Ohio in 1974, the FBI's annual Uniform Crime Reports released today shows.

The number of violent crimes in the state, including murder, forcible rape, robbery and aggravated assault, jumped as a group from 31,304 in 1973 to 39,094 last year.

Property crimes, including burglary, larceny-theft and auto theft were up to 414,377 from 343,836 two years ago.

The FBI report is compiled each year from statistics submitted by city, county and state law enforcement agencies. To assure uniformity, standard definitions are used for the seven offenses included in the agency's crime index.

Cincinnati Police Chief Carl V. Goodin chaired the committee on uniform crime records of the International Association of Chiefs of Police that advised the FBI.

There were 38,118 violent crimes in Ohio cities in 1974, compared to 976 in rural areas of the state.

Statewide, there were 394,912 property crimes in cities last year and 19,465 rural property crimes.

Overall, Ohio recorded an increase in serious crime of 78,331, from 375,140 in 1973.

Here is a breakdown of crime in the state's major metropolitan areas:

—Akron, including Summit and Portage counties, listed 36,116 serious crimes in 1974. The highest area totals within the two categories were 1,182 aggravated assaults and 21,234 larceny-thefts.

—Canton showed 13,282 property crimes and 1,143 violent crimes for Carroll and Stark counties. The area recorded 667 robberies and 7,905 larceny-thefts for the highest totals within the index.

—Cincinnati, including Clermont, Hamilton and Warren counties in Ohio, plus Kentucky's Campbell and Kenton

Supreme Court Choices Pondered

WASHINGTON (AP) — A lawyer's committee screening potential Supreme Court nominees says it will focus on professional qualifications, judicial temperament and integrity. Later, when he makes the selection, President Ford is likely to take political and other factors into account.

Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi received the first report Sunday from the American Bar Association's committee on some of the suggested nominees to replace Justice William O. Douglas, who retired last week because of ill health. The administration asked the ABA to evaluate about 12 persons for the job.

Warren Christopher of Los Angeles, chairman of the panel, said the report to Levi was made by telephone, was very tentative and covered about half of the persons on the list. He said he expected the committee to be meeting "on and off for the next several days."

After the committee's evaluations are finished, Ford will submit his choice to the Senate for confirmation. The choice is not limited to the list before the ABA committee, administration officials say.

Here are sketches of some potential nominees, some reportedly on the list submitted to the ABA by the administration.

ARLIN ADAMS

A judge of the 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia, Adams, at 54, is within the "middle-aged" range Ford has mentioned and nine years younger than the average age of the current justices. He has been a judge six years. He is Jewish, and there has not been a Jew on the court since Abe Fortas resigned in 1969.

ROBERT H. BORK

Solicitor general, he is the government's lawyer in the Supreme Court. Both Justice Thurgood Marshall and retired Justice Stanley Reed came to the court from that position. Bork is 48 and a conservative. He fired the first Watergate prosecutor, Archibald Cox, which could be a liability.

ALFRED N. GOODWIN

A judge of the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Goodwin is 52, a Republican from Portland, Ore., and has been a state or federal judge since 1955.

ROBERT P. GRIFFIN

The assistant Republican leader in the Senate, Griffin would give the court its first justice with a senatorial background since Justice Hugo L. Black retired in 1971. None of the present justices has held partisan elective office.

Ford has indicated he does not think people from such backgrounds should be ruled out. Nomination of Griffin could open the President to charges of cronyism and provincialism, since Griffin is an old friend from his home state. He is 52 and from Traverse City, Mich.

CARLA HILLS

Secretary of housing and urban development, Mrs. Hills would be the first woman justice at a time when feminist groups and First Lady Betty Ford are pushing for such an appointment.

She is from California, which would preserve the geographical balance that has existed, since Douglas was from Washington state. Some liberal senators questioned her qualifications to be HUD secretary, have not been happy with her performance, and could oppose her nomination on grounds she lacks experience.

SHIRLEY HUFSTEDLER

A judge of the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Mrs. Hufstедler, 50, has been a state or federal court judge since 1961. She is a Democrat and might be more liberal than Ford would like, although he has said he doesn't think the ideological stance of a justice can be predicted in advance.

EDWARD M. LEVI

The attorney general, at 64, is one of the older people to be mentioned for the vacancy. He is Jewish. His appointment, like that of Griffin, would mean that four of the nine justices would be from the Midwest. He was born in Chicago and is a former University of Chicago president.

VINCENT L. MCKUSICK

A Portland, Maine, attorney, McKusick, 54, is a Republican and was a clerk to the late Justice Felix Frankfurter. His appointment would reinstate a tradition, not followed in recent years, of having a New Englander on the court.

DALLIN OAKS

President of Brigham Young University, Oaks, like Douglas, is a former law school professor. At 43, he would be the youngest nominee since Douglas was named at age 40. A Mormon, he would probably be the first of that faith on the court. He would be the second current justice from the Mountain states, joining Byron R. White of Colorado.

PAUL RONEY

A judge of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans, Roney is highly regarded among his fellow judges. He is from St. Petersburg, Fla., and would be the second justice from the South, joining Lewis F. Powell Jr. of Virginia.

JOHN PAUL STEVENS

A judge of the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals since 1970, Stevens is a former Supreme Court law clerk and served in 1951 as associate counsel of a House judiciary subcommittee. He is 55 years old and from Chicago.

J. CLIFFORD WALLACE

A judge of the 9th Circuit, Wallace is from San Diego, Calif., and his appointment would preserve the West Coast representation on the court.

WILLIAM H. WEBSTER

A judge of the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Webster, 51, has been a federal judge since 1971. He is from St. Louis, is a former federal prosecutor and a past president of the Association of Missouri Republicans.

CHARLES E. WIGGINS

Fourth-ranking Republican on the House Judiciary Committee, Wiggins is a former House colleague of Ford who says he is "primarily a lawyer rather than a legislator or politician." Wiggins, 47, was a staunch supporter of President Richard M. Nixon during House impeachment proceedings. This could count against him.

ROUNDTOWN

PICKAWAY County Council on Aging is conducting a housing survey to determine the feasibility of federally funded or subsidized housing for the elderly and the economically disadvantaged. A questionnaire appears on page 8 of today's edition of The Herald. Persons interested in such housing are requested to clip the survey blank from the paper, fill it out and mail it to the Senior Citizens Center.

Wide Food Price Fluctuations Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although food prices have slowed from their rapid climb of the past two years, consumers can expect them to gyrate widely for many years because of weather and Soviet Union grain imports, an Agriculture Department economist said today.

"The events of the last few years emphasize what we have tended to forget, that a major source of price instability is natural disaster — droughts, floods, too much rain, early frosts, insects and diseases," said Kenneth R. Farrell, deputy administrator of USDA's economic research service.

Retail food prices, which rose 4.5 per cent in 1972, soared 14.5 per cent in each of the following two years.

Department experts, including Farrell today, said those will average about 9 per cent for all of 1975 and slow down further to an annual rate of 4 to 5 per cent in the first half of next year.

Food-price instability will be "one of the major characteristics of the next decade" and much of the roller-coaster effect will be "tied to weather, both here and abroad," Farrell said in remarks prepared for USDA's annual National Agricultural Outlook Conference.

"The emergence of the USSR as a participant in the world market means that the instabilities of grain production in that part of the world have become a part of our uncertainties," Farrell said.

Stricken by drought, Russia's grain harvest this year fell far short of needs. Consequently, the Soviets have bought heavily from other countries, including about 13.2 million metric tons of wheat and feed grains from the United States so far this season. A metric ton is 2,204.6 pounds.

A huge export flow the past three years, including massive sales to other countries as well as to Russia, have drained once-large U.S. grain reserves. During the previous two decades, the U.S. stockpile and similar supplies in Canada and Australia served as a buffer against soaring food prices, Farrell said.

But, once food products leave the farm, the elements of price instability "are less and largely man-made," he said. Those involve so-called middleman costs for getting food from farms to consumers.

Farrell said that supermarkets began switching from trading stamps and related selling techniques to price competition in the early 1970s. He said that the shift led to the A&P food chain's "WEO" in 1972 "without which average food prices would have risen another one-half per cent" in that year.

"That emphasis on price competition was largely overridden by the sharp price increases of 1973 and 1974, but it is now back with renewed vigor," Farrell said.

Find Teens Have Writing Problems

DENVER (AP) — A study released today indicates American teen-agers are losing their ability to communicate clearly through written English.

Compared with students tested in 1970, students 13 and 17 years old tested last year wrote a greater number of incoherent paragraphs and wrote in a shorter, "primer-like" style, said a report from the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP).

But 9-year-olds tested in similar fashion wrote better in 1974 than their counterparts four years earlier, the NAEP said.

Females wrote better essays than males at all three ages, the study found.

The NAEP is a project of the Education Commission of the States, an organization to which 45 states belong. Based in Denver, it conducts periodic tests in various subject fields to measure the relative skills of students from year to year. It is funded by the National Center for Education Statistics, a federal agency.

In a survey of writing skills taken first in 1970 and repeated in 1974, the NAEP tested 80,000 students in three age groups — 9-year-olds, 13-year-olds and 17-year-olds who were still in school. The test involved writing essays to answer questions.

The survey showed the writing of 17-year-olds declined in quality between the two assessments. The 1974 students showed an increase in awkwardness and run-on sentences and a tendency to write as they would speak, the report said.

Writing performance for the 13-year-olds also declined. On the average, the NAEP found the 1974 essays shorter, less sophisticated in expression and more awkwardly written than the 1970 essays.

Only the papers from the 9-year-olds showed an improvement, with the proportion of good writers rising in 1974, the report said.

Only a few 9-year-olds in either year wrote fully developed paragraphs, the report said. But 9-year-olds surveyed in 1974 attempted more complex sentences and appeared to be moving toward more sophisticated writing.

The NAEP offered no explanation for the decline in writing skills, but did offer some recommendations for them. It suggested that remedial writing laboratories be made available to all students; that more writing be required in schools, and that educators recognize teaching grammar is not teaching writing.

Jury Selection Set In Death

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Jury selection was to begin today in Montgomery County Pleas Court in the trial of Herman Lee Moore, 46. Moore is the first of three men to face trial in the kidnap-slaying of Dayton businessman Lester C. Emoff.

Moore faces charges of aggravated murder, kidnap and extortion in the Sept. 23 abduction. The other two defendants will be tried later — Albert Lee Scott Jr. on Dec. 1, and Willis Leroy on Dec. 15. All are from Dayton.

Wreck Fatal To 19-Year-Old

SUNDAY FATAL — James Lee Legg, 19, Ashville, was pronounced dead on arrival at Berger Hospital from injuries he sustained in a one-car accident, 4:25 a.m. Sunday. The auto traveled off the left side of the road, clipped a telephone pole and came to rest on its side. Legg is the 14th fatality of 1975 for Pickaway County.

According to the report taken by Sheriff's Deputy Nick Franklin, Legg was southbound on Cromley Road when he apparently lost control of the vehicle traveling off the right side of the highway.

The auto veered off the left side of the roadway struck a telephone pole clipping it in half and came to rest on its side in a field.

Pronounced dead on arrival at Berger Hospital by Dr. Francis W. Anderson, Legg suffered massive head injuries.

Born Jan. 25, 1956 in Madison, W. Va., he was the son of Monta and Eva Adkins Legg.

He is survived by his mother, two sisters, JoAnn Webb, California and Sherryll Little of Ashville; one brother Clyde of Michigan; paternal grandmother, Eria Legg, W. Va.

The funeral service will be 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Bastian Funeral Home with the Rev. Hayden Hay, officiating. Burial will be in the Floral Hills Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home 7-9 p.m. today.

Deputy James Fite cited 71-year-old Elmer Barnhart of Route 4, Chillicothe, for failure to yield the right of way when he pulled into the path of a car driven by Colin Hill, 34, Route 1, Lyndon, causing a wreck, 2:40 p.m. Sunday.

Westbound on the Hayesville-Adelphi Road, Barnhart was approaching the Route 159 intersection. Failing to observe Hill's auto northbound on 159, Barnhart continued into the intersection striking the Hill auto, owned by the American Telephone and Telegraph, in the side.

Barnhart was admitted to the Ross County Medical Center for head and chest injuries. Hill was treated and released at Berger Hospital for right leg and possible internal injuries.

Fourteen-year-old Karen C. Frazier of 430 Ruth Ave., was transferred to Children's Hospital for broken bones in the left leg she received when she ran into the path of a car on Route 23, 3:21 p.m. Sunday.

Iris Jeannette Jones, 24, Columbus, was northbound on Route 23 when the Frazier girl ran in front of her auto. The Jones' auto skidded 147-feet before striking the youth.

Deputy Norm McClelland investigated the accident.

Ex-Antioch President Succumbs

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Former Antioch College President Arthur E. Morgan, the first head of the Tennessee Valley Authority, died here Sunday at the age of 97.

Morgan was born in Cincinnati on June 20, 1878, and grew up in central Minnesota.

He began his engineering career as a land surveyor with his father, studying hydraulic and water control engineering. In 1905, he drafted a drainage code which was adopted by the Minnesota legislature.

Although his college education was limited to a few weeks at Colorado State University because of an eye condition, Morgan introduced a number of innovations during his tenure as Antioch president from 1920 to 1936. He pioneered a program alternating periods of work on campus with academic studies.

As chairman of the TVA from its start in 1933 until 1938 and chief engineer from 1933 to 1937, Morgan helped shape the country's first large scale regional planning program.

In 1940, Morgan founded the Community Service Inc. in Yellow Springs, an organization to study the future of small communities.

Acting Antioch President Morris Keaton said, "Arthur Morgan was the first to create a college using work for the liberal education of every student...His vision marks Antioch still."

Morgan is survived by two sons, Ernest, of Celo, N.C., and Griscom, of Yellow Springs, and a daughter, Mrs. Landrum S. Bolling, of Richmond, Ind. Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Man Charged In Slaying

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — A preliminary hearing was scheduled today for James Bradley Turpin, 20, of Bettsville, charged with the weekend slaying of an off duty Ohio highway patrolman.

Turpin was in custody in the Sandusky County Jail awaiting the common pleas court hearing.

The victim, Michael D. Fulton, 27, was returning home from a hayride with friends Friday night when the incident occurred.

Police said there were no witnesses to the slaying, but Fulton's widow, who was in the couple's home, gave them a partial description of the car allegedly driven by the assailant. The man was arrested at his home in nearby Bettsville.

Fulton was stabbed four times and died early Saturday in Memorial Hospital in Fremont, officials said.

Fulton had been on the patrol since 1970. In addition to his widow, he is survived by two children.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Hopes for the success of an effort to untangle New York City's finances carried the stock market to a modest gain today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up .47 at 854.14, and advancing issues held a 3-2 edge on declines at the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the question of whether New York and Washington leaders could agree on a plan to save the city from financial collapse remained the dominate influence on the market's fluctuations. They noted that buying seemed to be restrained by differing views of the next likely move in interest rates.

Newmont Mining was the most active issue on the Big Board, down 1/2 at 22 1/2. A 188, 300-share block traded at 22 1/2.

The NYSE's composite index added .09 to 48.25, while the American Stock Exchange market value index edged up .06 to 85.74.

The animal, Miss VC Agressor 4036, was shown by T.D. Van Camp III. It finished second in the class of Rikilis Miss Avignon, the eventual grand champion of the show.

Two other Van Camp heifers, Miss VC Agressor 4161 and Miss VC Agressor 4120, placed seventh and eighth in the Spring Yearling Heifer Class.

The class winner, Euphrasie Fauchement, was the eventual reserve grand champion of the show.

The animals will again be shown Thursday by Ed Riffle and Joe Lee in the open division of the Kentucky National Charolais Show and Sale.

Other Van Camp animals in the Kentucky National Show and Sale are Miss VCS Agressor 41 and Miss VCS Agressor 43.

The animals were all sired by Riverwood Agressor, Van Camp's outstanding breeding Charolais which is the son of the full French bull Andalous.

Riverwood Agressor has proved to be an outstanding sire of quality cattle. He is responsible for winning the national challenge trophy at the North American Charolais Classic in June.

Probe Of BMV Said Completed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Results of a State Highway Patrol investigation of alleged payroll irregularities in the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles were to be turned over to the Franklin County prosecutor's office today.

The six-week investigation was requested by Ohio Highway Safety Director Donald D. Cook. Cook would not comment on how much money or how many employees were involved in the investigation.

Senior Citizens Will Exercise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Senior citizens in Ohio will take part in a physical fitness program sponsored by the National Association for Human Development and the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports.

The Ohio Commission on Aging will develop model exercise and fitness activities for persons over 60 in Lucas, Lawrence, Knox and Warren counties, said Martin Janis, commission director.

Delaware, Maryland and the greater Dallas, Tex. area are also participating in the federal program.

Milk Production Shows Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Milk production totaled 9.2 billion pounds in October, up ninetenths of 1 per cent from the same month last year, says the Agriculture Department.

According to USDA records; that was the first increase from a year earlier since last March. Even so, the 10-month total output this year —less than 97.4 billion pounds—was threethirds of 1 per cent less than Jan.-Oct. 1974 production.

One reason for the increase has been a rise in milk prices. Those on Oct. 15 averaged $9.53 per 100 pounds at the farm, compared with an all-milk average of $8.34 on the same date last year.

Dreams Bring Results

What man dreams of doing, he often is able to accomplish. Visionaries have been predicting for years that man someday will expand his living space on this planet by establishing cities under the sea.

He has not yet established cities, but he has submerged himself in self-contained deep sea environments and proved it was possible to live and work in a naturally hostile environment. Accomplishing much the same thing in the environment of the moon may have been more dramatic, but the oceans hold far greater practical potential.

When man knows the bottom of the seas, he will be master of those great bodies of water, be able to use them better for navigation, to reap better harvests of food from the sea, and to take out the rich minerals which abound there.

It pays to stop occasionally to take in the many ways in which age-old dreams of man are coming true today. Instant communication, space travel, victory over disease, harnessing of nuclear power — there is an endless list.

There is no reason that man's advances should all be on the physical plane. There is a world-wide outcry for real international peace today. The natural reaction is that it is impossible, considering the nature of man.

Is it impossible, though? Remember, man dreamed for centuries about exploring the bottom of the ocean and finally that dream is being realized.

When man begins to dream about the impossible, he takes the first step toward making it possible.

Always Late

By JIM BISHOP

We were playing a round of golf, Milton Goldstand, Oscar Fraley and I, when Oscar went into his great-reporters-of-the-past syndrome. Any two reporters can play and you may run through names such as Peter Zenger, Ambrose Bierce, Damon Runyon and Bob Considine, but I always come up with Red Dolan.

Fraley had just published a fine book called, "Hoffa: The Real Story," by James R. Hoffa. This, of course, is a lie because it was written by Oscar. Mr. Fraley can sling words so hard that he wounds them. All Hoffa could do was to call everybody an s.o.b.

I didn't say Red Dolan, but I was thinking it. When I was young and impressionable, Red Dolan was the last of the star reporters you see in the movies.

He was tall and he had blue eyes and orange wavy hair. He was addicted to tan topcoats and arriving late at the office. He earned $200 a week when the best reporters were getting $50.

On The News in New York he drew the best assignments. If a student at Harvard University committed suicide and left a secret diary, the city editor sent Red to cover it. If, in Prohibition days, someone could board a bootlegger's speedboat and get out to the ship laden with liquor, Dolan got it.

Arriving late at the office got him in trouble. Dayside reporters arrived at 10 a.m. and worked until six. Mr. Dolan sauntered in at 10:30. He had a city editor, Harvey Deuell, noted for his lack of a sense of humor.

Mr. Deuell hadn't been known to smile since the assassination of President McKinley. He called Dolan to his desk. "Red," he said softly, "you have been late every day in spite of my warnings. Beginning tomorrow, you will cover ship news."

"Ship news?" said Dolan. "That's kid stuff. Any $25 reporter can do it."

"Let us hope," said Mr. Deuell piously, "that you can do it."

Red was vexed. "The Coast Guard cutter leaves at 5 a.m. to meet the incoming liners. Boss, do you realize what time that is? I'm going to have to stay up all night to make it."

"One additional fact," said Deuell. "If you're late by one minute, the cutter takes off. You will cover ship news or you're fired." I was a copy boy. I adored Red Dolan. He was what I hoped to be in 25 years.

Mr. Dolan sat up all night to make that boat. He was sprouting a hangover in four natural colors when the cutter unmoored. It went to meet a French liner, the Ile de France. He climbed the gangway at the Narrows and asked the purser if there was anybody important aboard.

"There is Mr. Joseph P. Kennedy in suite three on the sundeck and there is Gloria Swanson, a movie person in suite four." "Miss Swanson will do,"

Red said.

He was surprised to find that Mr. Kennedy was in Miss Swanson's suite. They seemed friendly. In fact, Dolan had barely begun to take notes when he found that Kennedy owned a sizable chunk of Swanson's movie studio.

The big ship was headed up toward her pier when Kennedy offered Dolan a job. "I'll pay you $300 to start to write movies," the Boston banker said. Red had a few drinks of Scotch and accepted.

When he got back to The News, he told Harvey Deuell what to do with his job. It was a painful proceeding because Red was so explicit.

Red Dolan was no longer a star reporter; he was $300-a-week movie writer who couldn't savvy dialogue. He wrote reams of plots, but they never reached a camera. He began to drink.

At $300 a week, a man can drink quite a few. The studio sent him to a desert dehydration hospice. There he wandered over the sand, drinking alcoholic coolants and cooking cans.

Jimmy Cannon insisted that Red died listening to a Cannon funny story. He went into convulsive coughing and never came out of it. Personally, I have listened to Cannon stories for 30 years and never found them to be funny.

After Red Dolan died, his sister had him cremated. His remains sat on a mantelpiece in a jar. She invited a few reporters over to hoist a final drink to Red. They were embarrassed. They weren't accustomed to seeing Dolan in a jar.

After the second round, she tipped the jar. "Red isn't in here yet," she said apologetically. "But isn't it just like him, to be late?"

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

I feel certain this letter to the editor comes as no surprise since in my latest Williamsport News two very important items were omitted in the printing of the article. For what reasons I do not know and have not questioned, however, in this great nation of ours we are guaranteed two inalienable rights among others and the two that apply in this particular incident as I see it are the freedom of speech and the freedom of the press.

Therefore let it be known to my friends that I did attempt to rebut a recent news item in the paper with the following statements: "A meeting open to the public on the proposed zoning for the village (of Williamsport) was held Monday night in the American Legion Hall with 31 area citizens, five council members (one of whom is a planning committee member), the village clerk, Mayor Paul Long who is also a planning committee member, the chairperson of the planning committee and the village solicitor present.

The most popular feeling was in opposition to the plan as proposed and there was and still is much dissatisfaction on questions not being fully answered or more forthright explanations given. Several of those present requested a future meeting with the planning committee. Because only a limited number of zoning ordinances books are available it is quite difficult for most folks to become informed on the great number of ordinances.

There are many pros and cons and that's as it should be because when a group of people blindly accept whatever is thrust upon them for their "supposed" good then you quickly get away from the democracy and the freedoms of our heritage. Why celebrate our nation's 200th birthday unless we continue to hold firm in our beliefs of freedom and equality?" The other paragraph dealt with the fact that in another news item I had reported about the zoning meeting and had stated there had been two readings. This became a point of contention that I felt should be cleared.

The information was given to me by a village official who had made the honest mistake of interpreting two reading discussion sessions on the zoning as being two of the required three readings. In no way was there any intention to cast aspersions on the village official but at the same time there should be no aspersions cast as to irresponsible reporting on my part. I am prone to make my share of goofs but I try very hard to get the facts straight on the more important matters.

Thank you,
EILEEN EASTERDAY

Ohio University Increases Fees

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Fees will go up $15 a quarter at Ohio University beginning next term following action taken Saturday by the school's board of trustees.

The trustees blamed the action on a $404,000 cut in their state appropriations, partially funded civil service pay raises and utility increases.

The first fee increase in nearly four years, the board added $10 to instructional fees and $5 to general fees. That raises student fees to $220 instructional and $55 general. No increase for room and board was considered.

In other action, the board authorized the scheduling of a winter quarter election to determine the will of the faculty on representation by a bargaining agent. The board said if the faculty approves the action, a second election will be held to determine the agent.

Malpractice Law Will Be Discussed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's medical malpractice law will be discussed at the Ohio Academy of Trial Lawyers' seminar Nov. 21 in Cleveland.

The program is one of four throughout the state to bring trial attorneys up to date on the newest developments in Ohio law. Speakers include attorneys Robert Manning of Columbus, Robert Maynard of Columbus and Dr. Norman Rosenberg of Cleveland.

3 Escapees Being Sought

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Allen and Shelby County officials today continued their land and air search for three inmates at Lima State Hospital for the criminally insane who escaped over the weekend.

The three were believed to have stolen a truck from a church parking lot in northern Shelby County early Sunday morning, authorities said.

Five inmates at the facility escaped Saturday in a statewide car, taking four attendants as hostages. The attendants were abandoned unharmed along with one of the escapees who injured himself during the breakout, authorities said.

He was identified as William Murphy, 29, of Hamilton who apparently shot himself with a pistol the inmates used. A second inmate, Thomas Sturgeon, 23, of Cincinnati, was found by the Allen County sheriff's department canine corps about a quarter mile from where the escapees abandoned the car.

The other patients were identified as Leonard Singleton, 23, of Cleveland, charged with escape, burglary and armed robbery; Jerome Stanley, 22, of Detroit, charged with kidnaping, rape and arson and 25-year-old Irving Green, charged with rape.

LAFF - A - DAY

"I'm not practicing yoga, I'm looking for a quarter that rolled under the dresser!"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My son had a separation of his collarbone from his shoulder, while playing football. He is 15 now. Will he be left with a tendency to trouble when he gets older?

Mrs. N.N., La.

Dear Mrs. N.:

Shoulder separations are probably the most common injury to football players.

Fortunately, good equipment protects them so that these injuries have been markedly reduced.

With a severe injury, ligaments between the collarbone and the shoulder are torn or stretched. These painful problems are recognized easily. In most instances, adhesive tape dressings and slings put the shoulder at rest, allowing healing to take place rapidly.

When the ligaments are torn away, surgery may sometimes be necessary. Special wiring techniques are used to insure that the tissues will be reunited.

With rest, recovery is almost always complete. In most instances, patients can return to full activity. They must remember, however, that this area of weakness must be respected. When he grows older, there is no reason to suppose that your son will show any after-effects of this injury.

Is there any special meaning if an infant is born with swollen breasts?

Mrs. G.A., Maine

Dear Mrs. A.:

This is a rather common observation in newborn babies, both boys and girls.

Occasionally, associated with the swelling there may be discharge of a milky substance. This is of no importance and quickly clears up without any treatment.

The reason for the swelling and the secretion of milk is that the unborn child is affected by the increase of hormones that are circulating in the mother's blood during pregnancy.

Is there any danger to piercing ears?

Miss T.C., Calif.

Dear Miss C.:

The only obvious danger, of course, is the possibility of developing a local infection in the area of the ear lobe.

Very recently, some reports in the medical literature indicate that cases have been reported of hepatitis following piercing of the ears with infected instruments.

I believe that it is imperative that anyone who pierces ears should use disposable sterile instruments and needles. These should be used for one person and then discarded.

Modern Telephones Arrive In Northwest Ohio Hamlet

McCLURE, Ohio (AP) — The modern convenience of touchtone telephones replaces ancient, wall crank communicators in an overnight change Sunday in this tiny northwestern Ohio community.

The residents are bidding a reluctant farewell to the personal service that came with the antique equipment.

The conversion from the magneto telephone system, one of the last in the state, is expected to be nearly complete Sunday, a utility spokesman says.

Residents are prepared with new phone books and instruction sheets, but the new fangled devices won't take the place of operators like Dorothy Burditt who has been keeping track of activities and residents in town for 21 years. Her father was the exchange's first fulltime lineman.

All one had to do was call and ask: "Dorothy, is so-and-so home today or did he go over to the county seat?" Mrs. Burditt knew and saved a little time.

Occasionally one of the operators would share a special recipe, and the evening operator helped spell words for children struggling with homework. The operators also sounded the fire alarm when a distress call reached the switchboard. Then they alerted each member of the Damascus Township Fire Department.

The touch-tone phones are the wave of the future, she says, but Mrs. Burditt, who says she'll take a vacation now, admits she will miss "hearing people's voices you've heard all your life."

Six fulltime operators and two part-time operators will be out of jobs. Operator services will be handled through the Bowling Green exchange.

"All good things must come to an end, like horse and buggy days. I've really enjoyed my work so much, but the old system has served its purpose. My (new) telephone was the first to be

Klan Leader Eyes Presidency

LODI, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Ku Klux Klan leader Dale Reusch says he will make a bid for the U.S. presidency even if he doesn't get Klan support.

Reusch said Friday that he will attend a secret meeting of Klansmen Saturday in North Carolina. He said he hopes the meeting will end in-fighting and give him Klan support.

"It looks pretty slim," Reusch said about his bid to get Klan backing for his presidential bid. But he added that if the Klan doesn't unite there will be chaos and armed conflict before the presidential election.

"The largest single factor contributing to Ohio's vulnerable energy supply position is the direct and indirect dependence of Ohio upon natural gas imported from Louisiana, Texas and offshore Gulf of Mexico," the report said. "The economic and political factors which may affect interstate natural gas supplies are beyond the direct discretionary control of Ohio."

Most of the duties of the energy commission, which formally concludes its work Dec. 31, will be assumed by the new Ohio Energy and Resource Development Agency (ERDA).

The commission said ERDA should develop an aggressive, balanced program to stimulate supply and make most efficient use of fuel.

Wife May Be Disappointed

DEAR ABBY: Where can a person buy salt peter? Do I need a doctor's prescription to get it? Is it tasteless? And does it do what they say it does to a man's sex urge?

You can't send me a personal reply because my husband opens all the mail. Please answer in your column as soon as possible as I don't know how much longer I can put up with this. Thank you.

ALL WORE OUT IN L.A.

DEAR ALL: Salt peter can be purchased at a pharmacy. It is technically termed "potassium nitrate," and I am informed that no prescription is required. But because it's used in making explosives, some pharmacists refuse to sell it to minors.

It tastes like table salt, but if you expect it to reduce a man's sexual appetite, you could be disappointed.

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading your column for years, and around holiday time someone always asks, "Should we go to HIS mother's or to MY mother's for Thanksgiving and Christmas dinner?" And your answer is always, "Why not alternate?"

Abby, my husband and I struggled with that problem for years, and we resolved it according to your suggestion. Both sets of parents lived nearby, and it seemed the only fair thing to do. So for 22 years, we spent Thanksgiving and Christmas in parents' homes instead of our own.

It never dawned on us until this year as our children are ready to strike out on their own—that we never developed our own holiday traditions. We always went to Grandma's for the holidays. She insisted on doing all the cooking herself—and then she complained for months about how much work it was and how tired she got. When we, her daughters and daughters-in-law, asked if we could bring something for dinner, she wouldn't hear of it. When we brought food without asking her, she refused to serve it, so we finally gave up.

I realize now what a high price I've paid over the years for peace in the family. I wish I hadn't. Abby, please urge young marrieds to dare to have their own holiday celebrations in their own homes. Suggest that they invite their parents and grandparents, who might even be relieved to be finally free of the burden of entertaining three generations.

DOING MY OWN THING

DEAR DOING: Thank you for an excellent letter. Perhaps it will inspire others to "do their own thing," too. It makes a lot of sense.

DEAR ABBY: Our son is 20. Roger

THE FAMILY LAWYER

With her marriage in trouble, Martha decided that the real villains were the "permissive parents" who lived across the street. In a court suit she told the judge:

"Their daughter has been chasing my husband shamelessly. It is up to them to make her behave."

But when it turned out that the daughter was already 20 years old, the judge dismissed the case.

"To expect parents to vacuum-pack a mature daughter," said the judge, "is to expect the impossible."

Of course, the law does not expect parents to do the impossible in controlling the conduct of their children. On the other hand, the law does insist that they impose a reasonable amount of restraint.

Another case involved a 16-year-old boy with a habit of beating up younger children on the block. His parents not only failed to criticize their son but even defended him against complaints by the neighbors.

Finally sued by one of his youthful victims, the parents were ordered to pay damages. The court said they could and should have tried to curb behavior that was so plainly antisocial.

Even childish exuberance, if given free rein, may lead to parental liability.

Suppose a youngster goes racing around a department store while his mother unconcernedly does her shopping. If the child knocks somebody down the mother may well be held liable on grounds of negligence.

She cannot take a hands-off attitude, said one court in considering this kind of a situation, when she "observes the dangerous behavior and has an opportunity to exercise control."

Secret Retirement End Of Era

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The news release bore the simple heading, "Bob Secrest will not run in 1976." But it marked the end of an institution in Ohio politics and quite possibly the end of an era.

State Sen. Robert T. Secrest, D-20 Cambridge, has served five presidents, three Ohio governors and three generations of voters. His career in public life has spanned 48 years and he says quite candidly: "I know of no individual from Ohio, present or past, whose active political career has lasted so long."

In fact, only one member of congress still remains in Washington from the 1933 group that Secrest joined when he was first elected. And Wright Patman, a Texas Democrat, is 82.

Secrest, 71, is one of the few remaining members of a "crabgrass brigade" of rural legislators who dominated Ohio politics until the late 1960s when reapportionment changed the make up of districts.

The lanky, rough-hewn individualist has often found himself on the other side of issues from his more liberal Democratic colleagues since returning to the legislature as a senator in 1968.

It bothers him not a bit.

"I made up my mind and no one ever had to guess where I stood," he said. Indeed, Secrest was seldom badgered by lobbyists or reporters when he ambled onto the Senate floor with a plug of tobacco, stuck prominently in his cheek.

"They know better than that," he once said.

His retirement statement listed numerous accomplishments, including a 1931 law allowing gas tax money to be funneled to counties townships and municipalities.

"This bill brought rural Ohio out of the mud and did more than any other thing to get me elected to congress in 1932," he recalled.

The former one-room school teacher served in the congress for 10 years, left for a stint in the Navy in World War II and returned in 1948.

He was a member of the Federal Trade Commission for seven years, was appointed Ohio commerce director in 1962, and is still a charter member of the Ohio Bicentennial Commission.

He has been a champion of veterans causes during recent years in the Ohio General Assembly, but generally did not take an active role in support of controversial bills.

With "fourth down and a year to go," Bob Secrest thinks "it is time for someone younger to take hold of the plow."

He has no complaints.

"I have been completely happy in everything I have ever done, from working in the coal mines for many summers through my present work in the Ohio legislature," he says.

"I have devoted all of my adult life to southeast Ohio and the problems of the people who live there. I have no regrets."

THANKS CIRCLEVILLE

My sincere and heartfelt thanks for your support in the election. Also my appreciation for the privilege of representing you on the board for 8 years. I shall always be grateful to my community for the blessings it has given me.

Thanks to you, my friends,

Miss Cathryn C. Forbes Bride Of Andy R. Hamman

MRS. ANDY R. HAMMAN

In a candlelight ceremony Miss Cathryn C. Forbes became the bride of Mr. Andy Russel Hamman on Oct. 18, in Putnam Congregational Church in Marietta.

The Rev. Wayne Jacobson performed the double ring service for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Forbes Sr., 120 Woodcrest Drive Marietta, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hamman, Route 2, Williamsport.

The sanctuary was decorated with altar vases holding arrangements of yellow and bronze Fuji chrysanthemums, two candelabra backed with cibetium palms, and candles in each window. Family pews were marked with tallisman satin bows. A program of pre-nuptial selections was presented by Mrs. Dean Cummings, organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother. She appeared in a white formal length gown of angel silk accented with brussels lace. The bodice featured a V-neck with venise lace edging, empire waistline and straight sleeves with a ruffle at the wrists. A double ruffle edged the hemline of the skirt flowing softly into a chapel train. A lace edged band held the bride's fingertip veil of silk illusion and she carried an autumn glory bouquet of butterscotch pompon mums and yellow sweetheart roses tied with a tallisman satin ribbon bow. Her jewelry was pearl earrings and necklace.

Miss Susan Forbes was maid of honor for her sister. She wore an autumn gold floor length gown featuring an empire bodice, V-neckline with a pleated ruffle and gold and rust flowered lace edging. She carried a natural straw basket fill with German Statice, straw flowers, bloom broom, orange star flowers and wheat.

Bridesmaids, Miss Janice Downey, Miss Pat McCoy and Miss Shelley May, were gowned identically as the honor attendant and carried matching baskets.

Mr. Tom Hamman served his brother as best man. Ushers included Mr. Bill Hamman, brother of the bridegroom, Mr. Randy Forbes and Mr. Robert Forbes, brothers of the bride.

The bride's mother selected a floor length apricot knit dress and the bridegroom's mother chose a light blue dress. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchid corsages.

A reception in the Elks Lodge in Marietta followed the ceremony. Arrangements of yellow Fuji mums and Red Rover chrysanthemums in silver bowls decorated the bride's table and single yellow carnations were placed on the guest tables. Mrs. Robert Forbes presided at the guest book.

For her going-away costume the bride wore a rust print corduroy pants suit. The couple now resides at Route 2, Williamsport.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Marietta College, a member of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority, and is presently teaching at Salt Creek Elementary School.

A 1973 graduate of Marietta College, the bridegroom is a member of Delta Upsilon Fraternity. He is currently engaged in farming near Williamsport.

Honored guests at the wedding were Mr. Willard Peterson, Mrs. George W. Hamman and Mrs. J. F. Hindson.

Out-of-town guests were from Los Angeles, Calif.; Beckley, and Charlestown, W. Va.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Cambridge, Columbus, Clarksburg, Williamsport, Massillon, Akron, Cincinnati, Frankfort, Napoleon and Kingston, Ohio.

(EDITOR'S NOTE) The preceding story was republished as the last name of the bridegroom was omitted.

Members and guests present were Trudy Yates, Joann Allison, Robert Fausnaugh, Ora Benner, Rev. Roy Heimbach, Millard Dern, George Montgomery, Dawson Park and Willie Haddox, pastor of the Mission.

Mr. Haddox introduced five students from Circleville Bible College, who have chosen to assist at the Mission this year. The group sang two musical selections and then introduced themselves to board members and described areas of Christian Education in which they serve the mission congregation.

Wanda Miss from Gathersburg, Md. is working with the Youth and Junior Church; Jeff Underwood from Portsmouth, is teaching an adult Sunday School class; Handling the Junior class is John Ditterline from Mt. Orab, while Terri Deming from Andwell, N. Y. is serving in the position of music director. Brenda Campbell from Hartford, W. Va. is acting superintendent of the Sunday School. Officers selected for the coming year were: Mrs. David Yates, chairman; Robert Fausnaugh, vice-chairman; Joann Allison, secretary; and Richard Plum, treasurer.

decorated the barn and provided entertainment for the mission youngsters.

Plans for a candlelight Thanksgiving program are in progress and the Sunday school is preparing a basket for a needy family. A Christmas program and children's party will be on the agenda for December.

A successful 10 day revival was held this fall featuring Johnny Tate from CBC as the speaker.

The mission building is being renovated for the holiday season. New ceiling tile and paint in the sanctuary and decorative wall paper in the nursery are being installed. It is hoped that the platform, aisle, entrance hall and nursery can be carpeted to complete the redecoration project.

The Circleville Community Mission has been in existence for 20 years as an inter-denominational church supported by interested churches in Pickaway County. The present building was dedicated in June, 1957 and the addition in September of 1972. Under the capable leadership of Mr. Haddox, the mission continues to increase the quality and quantity of its service to the community.

Ticking Box Causes Stir

FARMLAND, Ind. (AP) — A ticking box that sent residents of this farming community scurrying for cover turned out to be nothing more sinister than a temperature monitoring device.

Postmaster Wayne Hitchcock discovered the 6-inch-by-3-inch package in a mailbox outside the postoffice Thursday afternoon.

An Army bomb disposal squad fired a bullet into the box to detonate it. Nothing happened, and the experts found there was no explosive in the box.

Gary Engle, a truck driver from Windsor, Ind., cleared up the mystery when he called the sheriff Friday and explained he was responsible for the device being in the Farmland mailbox.

Engle said he spotted the device on the ground at a truck dealership in Muncie and recognized it as temperature recording equipment used on refrigerated trucks. He was trying to mail it to the owner as requested on the container.

WHS Typing Teacher Featured

MRS. MARY ELLEN BAKER

By BRIDGET ELLIOTT

This week's featured teacher is Mary Ellen Baker, Westfall's new typing and stenography teacher. She lives at 151 Lewis Avenue in Circleville.

Mrs. Baker graduated from Miami University in Oxford. She previously taught at Tri-County Joint Vocational School in Nelsonville and taught the junior stenography block program for two years.

Her hobbies include swimming, tennis, reading, and houseplants.

Mrs. Baker feels that Westfall has a capable and friendly administration and faculty. She also states that the high school staff is very conscientious and gives one hundred per cent to their respective teaching areas.

Her opinion of the students is "The students are a friendly group, have a lot of school spirit, and many are hard workers. I enjoy the students in my classes, but I would like for them to be less satisfied with mediocre work and strive for the excellence of which most of them are capable. They should take advantage of all the opportunities available at Westfall."

New Students Introduced

By SHIRLEY FIELDS

Mustang Country would like to present two new students who are attending Westfall this year. They are Cindy Miller and Rusty Arndt.

Cindy Miller, a freshman, lives at Route 1, Williamsport with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Miller and brothers and sisters. Cindy, came from Hamilton Twp. Rusty Arndt, also a freshman, came from Pleasant View Middle School. He lives with his parents Mr. and Mrs. David Arndt and his sister of Route 1, Orient. Rusty's hobbies are roller skating and motorcycles. He dislikes school and he likes girls.

Man Sentenced In Large Fraud

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — An Erie frozen food distributor has been sentenced to 15 months in jail after pleading guilty to what federal authorities termed one of the largest frauds uncovered in western Pennsylvania.

Paul Seligson, president of Erie Farms Inc., waived indictment and trial Friday and pleaded guilty to charges contained in a federal information.

He was accused of falsifying company records between February 1974 and February 1975 to obtain more than $1.4 million in loans. Sentence was handed down by U.S. District Court Judge John L. Miller.

What Makes A Citizen?

By YOUR WESTFALL

BICENTENNIAL MINUTEMAN

Many people never really consider what it means to be a citizen of the United States of America. They don't realize that it is more than merely living here. What are some of the qualities of good American citizens?

One quality that many people consider important is to be religious. This has been shown through the years. From the prayer at the first Thanksgiving up to the present, we have shown our faith in God. In many of the songs, poems, and speeches, our belief in God is apparent. We speak of his blessings and grace on our country.

Many Americans consider themselves to be independent. They are able to stand on their own feet and go their own ways. But when a problem or emergency arises, we can band together and show the spirit and support needed to create a strong country.

In a sense we are all builders. We have been for the past two hundred years. All this time we have been working to build a stronger nation. If we wanted to, we could compare the building of our nation to that of building a house. First you must lay a foundation. This was provided for us by the fighting and intelligence of our forefathers. They gave us the basic principles on which to build our country. Next we must construct the walls. Accomplished by the Constitution and our form of government, we have many freedoms to enjoy. Finally, there is the roof. Our support and belief in God has helped to construct the roof.

Finally, Americans must be optimistic. Through the challenges and problems we face, it is important that we maintain a positive attitude. Without it, we would not be able to survive the pressures and tensions our country must face.

What are you going to say when someone asks you if you're an American? Are you going to ignore the question as if you don't care? Or will you consider these things and answer, "Yes, I'm proud to be an American citizen."

PRVC Student, Gail West, Interviewed

By VICKI WILKEY

The senior horticulture students at the Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational School are learning the techniques of operating a greenhouse under their adviser Fred Tomastik.

These students are learning the different varieties of plants, grasses, weeds, flowers, and the complete production of flowers, with Tomastik's help. They are also learning to do flower and plant arrangements. Another important thing they're learning is how to care for plants and flowers. When the students finish this year, they will have the basic knowledge needed to work in a flower shop or greenhouse.

Among the students in the senior horticulture class is Westfall's representative, Gail West. Gail is seventeen years old and resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell West, in Williamsport.

Gail has received many honors while attending the PRVC. During the 1974-75 school year, she was honored as the top agricultural student by Mr. Crabb, the district Supervisor. Gail was also honored as the top horticulture student in her junior class.

Last April she was chosen as the Vice-President of the FFA club, and was chosen to go to this year's FFA National Convention at Kansas City. Due to other plans, she was unable to attend. Gail participated on the FFA parliamentary procedure team last year and is practicing for this year. At the end of last year's FFA fruit sale, she had sold 68 crates which was the most sold. This year she sold 79 crates and is still working.

Gail's main interest is working with plants and flowers. She is also looking forward to graduation.

Reagan Rejects 3rd Party Plan

CHICAGO (AP) — Ronald Reagan, who is expected to formally announce his candidacy for the Republican nomination for president this week, says he would not be a third-party candidate if he fails to get his GOP bid.

Third parties "have a way of dividing people of like opinions," the former California governor said Sunday.

During an address to the International Sanitary Supply Association, Reagan said the United States should reassess its policy toward the United Nations because of the "stupid, vicious, outrageous" anti-Zionist resolution recently passed by the U.N. General Assembly.

"If they're going to continue to play that game, I think we should go home and sit for a while," Reagan said.

Gary Barlow Named To Handicapped Post

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Gary Barlow, coordinator for Wright State University's art education department, has been named Ohio's representative to the National Committee for Arts for the Handicapped.

At Wright State, Barlow has coordinated programs in developmental, cognitive and expressive therapy for students from preschool age through senior citizens.

Man Enjoys Life With Duck Decoys

BROOKLYN, Mich. (AP) — In the early 1950s, Charl "Charlie" Green says he found a way to make duck-hunting season last all year — he began carving decoys.

And that hobby, which he says is the only true American handicraft, since it was never practiced in Europe, has led him to pick up a number of ribbons in contests. His hobby has expanded to carvings of sea gulls, song birds and owls as well as ducks.

The local hardware merchant still makes decoys, but most of his spare time now is spent carving decorative pieces for walls and office desks. He also makes mobiles.

For the 28th Annual Midwest Decoy Contest, he fashioned a set of mergansers (fish-eating fowl). But he still spends plenty of cold, clammy autumn mornings crouched in a duck blind, looking out for rare species to provide him with new coloring patterns for his decoys.

He shoots the ducks, although not many in a season, then takes them home and skins them. His finished products each carry a price tag of $40 to $400.

Most of his carving is done in bass wood bought from home builders. He also scouts around for trees knocked down in storms. Then he stacks the wood, letting it air dry for three or four years.

He's also a decoy collector, owning samples of wooden fowl that date back to the days of the Civil War.

And his work extends to his artist daughter Mary Lou, often found painting water fowl in water colors and ink in the shop behind Green's Hardware. Son Chuck, 24, also carves. As

Time and natural gas are running out for American industry.

"For want of a nail ... a kingdom was lost", are words of wisdom from a children's rhyme whose moral seems to be lost on today's political leaders.

For each day that passes, another industrial plant faces fewer and fewer working days ... another new house does not get built ... another job is lost.

And all for the want of a more rational energy policy that will encourage discovery and production of new natural gas.

The shortage of natural gas is critical. And, continuing to argue about this shortage while the nation's economic shoes are wearing thin is inviting disaster.

Natural gas provides about a third of the nation's total energy, and over half of all the fuel used by American industry. Allowing that supply to shrink and strangle the economy is unthinkable. And, it is unnecessary.

There is still plenty of natural gas to be discovered right here in our own back yard. Initial surveys of the outer continental shelf off the Atlantic Coast indicate it has the greatest early potential for new natural gas. This area is close to the nation's major consuming centers and can be explored and developed, using modern drilling techniques, with virtually no environmental risks.

Yet, little is being done to allow this area to be explored. More progressive and innovative leasing policies are needed to expand the availability of these public lands for exploration and development.

The United States is running dangerously low of available natural gas, and running out of time.

Natural gas is the the American economy.

Major College Bowl Berths Filled

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

As usual, Alabama is in the forefront of the postseason bowl spotlight. And as a result of the Crimson Tide's decision to play in the Sugar Bowl against Penn State, either Nebraska or Oklahoma will be shut out of the five major bowls.

The surprising beneficiary of all the weekend's wheeling and dealing, which saw 20 of the 22 major berths unexpectedly filled, could be the newest of them all, the five-year-old Fiesta Bowl, which might have a Top Ten match-up of unbeaten and eighth-ranked Arizona State — provided the Sun Devils defeat Arizona for the Western Athletic Conference title — against the loser of Saturday's Big Eight Conference showdown between second-ranked Nebraska and No. 6 Oklahoma.

The Alabama-Penn State Sugar Bowl pairing was reported by The Associated Press Sunday night and was to be officially announced in New Orleans at 1 p.m., EST, today. With one game left for both teams, fifth-ranked Alabama has a 9-1 record following a 27-6 triumph over Southern Mississippi, to 8-2 for 11th-ranked Penn State, idle over the weekend.

The only vacant bowl berths are one in the Tangerine Bowl against 16th-ranked Miami of Ohio and another in the Peach Bowl against North Carolina State. With some pairings still to be announced officially, The AP has come up with the following bowl line-up:

—Rose Bowl: Big Ten champion (Ohio State or Michigan) vs. Pacific-8 champion (UCLA, California or Stanford).

—Orange Bowl: Nebraska-Oklahoma winner vs. Ohio State-Michigan loser.

—Sugar Bowl: Alabama vs. Penn State.

—Cotton Bowl: Southwest Conference champion (Texas A&M, Texas or Arkansas) vs. Georgia.

—Gator Bowl: Florida vs. Maryland.

—Liberty Bowl: Southern California vs. Arkansas, if the Razorbacks don't win the Southwest Conference title and thereby go to the Cotton Bowl, or Texas A&M.

—Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl: Colorado vs. Texas A&M or Texas.

—Fiesta Bowl: Western Athletic Conference champion (Arizona State or Arizona) vs. Nebraska-Oklahoma loser.

—Sun Bowl: Pitt vs. Kansas-Missouri winner.

—Tangerine Bowl: Miami of Ohio vs. opponent to be selected.

—Peach Bowl: North Carolina State vs. opponent to be selected.

The rash of bowl invitations and the cries from the powerful Big Eight Conference that Alabama is ducking a match with a Big Eight opponent overshadowed a weekend in which nine of the Top Ten teams posted victories while the other, ninth-ranked Notre Dame, dropped out of the bowl picture by losing to Pitt 34-20 as Tony Dorsett romped for 303 yards and scored twice.

After Saturday's 52-0 rout of Iowa State, Nebraska Coach Tom Osborne told Sugar Bowl executive secretary John Barr, "Tell that son of a buck (Bear Bryant) not to duck us."

Osborne was alluding to oft-repeated charges that Bryant, who hasn't won in his last eight bowl trips, decides where he wants Alabama to play and also hand-picks the opponent. Bryant has repeatedly said he wanted to play in the first Sugar Bowl in New Orleans' new Superdome, but also said he would rather play for the national championship.

It would take a far-fetched, unlikely series of developments for Alabama to win the national championship by defeating Penn State.

Big Eight Commissioner Charles M. Neinas, confirming the Sugar Bowl had rejected the Nebraska-Oklahoma loser, said, "The only explanation I received was 'local considerations.' I asked for a further explanation and I didn't get one."

Asked why the Sugar Bowl invited Penn State rather than the Nebraska-Oklahoma loser, Clifford H. Kern Jr., president of the sponsoring New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports

Sugar Lang Wins

Sugar Lang, owned by George A. Fissell of Circleville and trained and driven by Russ Baldwin, won the feature race at the Meadows Saturday.

Pacing the mile in 2:03.3 at the plush Washington, Pa., track, the locally owned harness horse paid $17, $6.20 and $4.40 for its fifth win of the season.

Association, said, "If I answer that question I'll be confirming something I don't want to confirm."

In Tuscaloosa, Ala., assistant athletic director Charley Thornton confirmed Alabama had received a bid to the Sugar Bowl, adding: "It's no secret we'd rather go to the Sugar Bowl this year, but it's not true we ducked the Orange Bowl. We never told the Orange Bowl we wouldn't go there. The Orange Bowl passed us by."

Nick Crane, chairman of the Orange

Bowl's team selection committee, said Alabama wasn't invited "because both Big Ten teams (Ohio State and Michigan) are ranked higher than Alabama and our tradition is to take the highest-rated teams on the pick 'em date."

On the field, No. 1-ranked Ohio State pounded Minnesota 38-6 and fourth-ranked Michigan downed Illinois 21-15, setting up next week's annual showdown.

Nebraska thought it might make it to the Orange Bowl before its meeting with Oklahoma but the Sooners, after blowing a 20-0 halftime lead, rallied to nip No. 18 Missouri 28-27 on Joe Washington's 71-yard fourth-down touchdown dash and twopoint conversion run with 4:20 remaining.

The three Southwest Conference challengers all remained in contention — third-ranked Texas A&M with a 33-14 victory over Rice; No. 7 Texas, which turned back winless Texas Christian 27-11 despite the loss of star quarterback Marty Akins with an early knee injury, and Arkansas, which thumped Southern Methodist 35-7.

The host team in the Fiesta Bowl will be decided Nov. 29 when Arizona State, which routed Pacific 55-14, meets No. 12 Arizona, which trimmed Colorado State 31-9. Tenth-ranked Colorado shaded No. 17 Kansas 24-21.

Southern Cal, ranked 13th, lost its third in a row since Coach John McKay announced he was leaving for the pros at the end of the season, bowing to Washington 8-7 on Greg Martin's fourth-quarter 12-yard touchdown run.

No. 19 UCLA remained in the Pacific-8 driver's seat by whipping Oregon State 31-9 as John Sciarra passed for 247 yards. UCLA can clinch the Pac-8 crown by defeating Southern Cal on Nov. 28. No. 15 California, a 31-14 nonleague winner over Air Force, and Stanford, which outlasted Oregon 33-30, also are in the running but next week's loser will be eliminated.

Florida, No. 14, walloped Kentucky 48-7. Miami of Ohio, ranked No. 16, set a record with its 16th consecutive Mid-American Conference triumph, a 27-8 whipping of Kent State. No. 20 Georgia beat Auburn 28-13.

North Carolina State, trailing Duke 21-7 after three periods, rallied to salvage a 21-21 standoff, enough to earn a bid to the Peach Bowl. Maryland virtually nailed down the Atlantic Coast Conference title by defeating Clemson 22-20 on Mike Sochko's 29-yard field goal with eight seconds remaining.

TACKLED — Lakewood St. Edward halfback Chris Bova (41) is tackled by Newark's Tom Starr (22) in this shot of the action at the Akron Rubber Bowl, site for the Class AAA High School football playoff Saturday. St. Edward won the game, 19-7, and will face Cincinnati Moeller Friday for the state football title. Starr, the son of former Circleville High School coach Paul Starr, was credited with five tackles in the game.

By BOB BENSONHAVER

Well, if I had a prize, I'd give it to Larry Dietrich. Larry completely shattered the pins at Circle D Tuesday night rolling a 235-255-226 for a series of 716. Congratulations for being the first. O.K., who's next?

High bowlers in the Sunday leagues at Circle D were Janet Lutz rolling a 217 and Jerry Owens a 207. Series highs were 507 rolled by JoAnn Foll and 570 by Jerry Owens. In the second league Madeline Sanders rolled a 190-527 and Bob Bartholomew a 221-622.

Vikings Trip New Orleans, 20-7

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

Any football coach worth his whistle knows that the only place the game pays off is in the won-loss column. So what if it wasn't neat? It's whether you win or lose, not how you play the game that counts.

That's why Minnesota didn't worry about six fumbles, two interceptions and 50 yards in penalties. What counts is that the Vikings beat New Orleans 20-7 Sunday, extending their National Football League winning streak to nine consecutive games.

And St. Louis doesn't care that its tying touchdown with 20 seconds left against Washington needed a huddle by the officials before it was approved. Seven points is seven points, and that TD forced the overtime that saw the Cardinals kyo the Redskins 20-17 on Jim Bakken's 37-yard field goal. The game's nine turnovers? So what?

Neatness counts in the fourth grade

Redskins Rip Kent State, 27-8

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dick Crum, Miami's (Ohio) low-key football coach, wasn't reaching for any panic button just because his team trailed 2-0 at halftime.

"We didn't change a single thing," said Crum.

Patience paid off for the 16th-ranked Redskins. They ripped by Kent State 27-8 for a record 16th conference triumph Saturday and are Tangerine Bowlbound as the unbeaten Mid-American champions.

Miami closed out its third straight MAC crown with a 6-0-0 record, easily beating second-place Central Michigan's 4-1-1 mark.

The Chippewas clinched second, burying Northern Illinois 69-7.

In nonconference games, Ball State (9-2) mauled Illinois State 46-7, Western Michigan won its first game after 10 losses, 22-14 over Eastern Michigan, Bowling Green (8-2-0) thumped Southern Illinois 48-6 and Ohio University (4-5-1) fell to Cincinnati 6-5.

Toledo did not play Saturday.

Hawks Edge N.Y. Knicks; Win 97-96

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Atlanta Hawks had a game in their pockets and almost threw it away.

Luckily for them, the New York Knicks threw it away first — the ball, that is.

The Knicks wiped out most of a mammoth 17-point deficit in the final seven minutes Sunday night and had the chance to win, but blew three easy close shots in the last two seconds.

As a result, the Hawks escaped with a nerve-jabbing 97-96 National Basketball Association victory.

"The play went the way we planned ... the shot just didn't drop," said Knick Coach Red Holtzman.

Shots by John Gianelli and Phil Jackson hung tantalizingly on the rim, then dropped off to kill the undaunted Knicks once and for all.

"They had three shots and I still can't figure out how the ball didn't go in," said Atlanta's Connie Hawkins. "But it should have never been that close."

In the other NBA games, the Los Angeles Lakers smashed the Chicago Bulls 110-93 and the Seattle Super-sonics trimmed the Golden State Warriors 102-98. In the only American Basketball Association game, the Indiana Pacers turned back the Spirits of St. Louis 136-114.

Lou Hudson's 21 points led six Hawks in double figures as Atlanta led by more than 10 points most of the game, stretching it to 88-71 with 7:20 remaining. Then Spencer Haywood, who finished with 24 points, led the Knicks' comeback, narrowing the margin to 95-94 on a three-point play.

Toledo Goadiggers Turn Back Flint, 3-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toledo left wing Moe Brunel scored two goals and Juri Kudrasovs one to give the Goadiggers a 3-2 International Hockey League victory over the Flint Generals Sunday night at Toledo.

Flint scored first with a goal by left wing Scott Hudson in the first period. Brunel then tied the score at 1-1.

but in the NFL, all that matters is putting more points on the scoreboard than the other guys.

Baltimore, for example, neatly demolished the New York Jets 52-19 for Sunday's onesided award but Houston got the same effect, nipping Miami 20-19 on a touchdown by Ronnie Coleman with 71 seconds left.

Elsewhere, it was Pittsburgh 28, Kansas City 3; Los Angeles 16, Atlanta 7; Detroit 13, Green Bay 10; San Francisco 31, Chicago 3; Philadelphia 13, New York Giants 10; Dallas 34, New England 31; Oakland 38, Cleveland 17, and Denver 27, San Diego 17.

Buffalo plays at Cincinnati tonight, completing the NFL's ninth week of action.

Vikings 20, Saints 7

"We made an awful lot of mistakes," noticed Minnesota Coach Bud Grant. "I don't know why, I don't think it was the caliber of the opposition."

downs and 153 yards, but it was Miami's defense that caught Crum's eye. "Our defense did the job when we couldn't get on the scoreboard," he said.

Walt Hodges also delivered a three-touchdown, 185-yard performance for Central Michigan. "To finish second in our first year in the league isn't bad," said Roy Kramer, the Chippewas' coach.

Jerry Ippoliti, his Northern Illinois team knocked down to eighth place, said of Central Michigan, "They've got to be the best all-around team I've seen in some time."

Dan Shepherd's two field goals, for a school record 14, enabled Cincinnati (6-4) to shade Ohio.

Art Yaroch produced three touchdowns and scored 20 points for Ball State, finishing with its best record in a decade.

Dan Matthews' 233 yards rushing powered Western Michigan past Eastern Michigan, the lone expansion member still ineligible in the MAC football race. Matthews' performance gave him 2,000 career yards, second highest in school history.

Jim Gause rushed for 120 yards, Dave Preston 106 and Dan Saleet 100 and Bowling Green piled up 562 total yards at Southern Illinois.

Meanwhile, top-ranked Ohio State swept by Minnesota 38-6 to set the stage for this week's trip to Michigan for the Big Ten title and Rose or Orange Bowl berth. The winner goes for the Roses, the loser for the Oranges.

Muskingum marred Wittenberg's path to an NCAA Division III playoff berth this week by spilling the Tigers 9-0 in the Ohio Conference championship game.

Dayton closed out its season at 5-6 as sophomore quarterback B.J. Dailey figured in four touchdowns in a 29-8 rout of Marshall. Dailey passed for three touchdowns and ran for a fourth.

Phil Sims passed 11 yards to Keith Mescher in the opening quarter and Morehead made it stand for a 7-0 upset of Akron.

South Dakota slotback Dick Wiekert, with two touchdown receptions and a third score from rushing, did in Youngstown 38-21.

Stan Mitchell's school record 252 yards rushing and four touchdowns led Eastern Michigan to a 50-36 triumph over Ashland.

Hoosier-Buckeye champion Hanover, NCAA Division II playoff bound against Texas Lutheran this week, thumped Wilmington 34-0.

Duane Danner's 24-yard field goal with two minutes left produced a 24-21 Morgan State decision over Central State.

The 2-7 Saints didn't turn the ball over once but couldn't take advantage of Minnesota's sloppy play.

Despite his two interceptions, Fran Tarkenton pitched three touchdown passes to keep the Vikings' winning streak going.

Cardinals 20, Redskins 17

Jim Hart's second TD pass of the game to Mel Gray with 20 seconds left tied the game and then Bakken's sure foot won it after seven minutes of overtime for St. Louis. The victory moved the Cards into first place in the NFC East, one game ahead of Washington and Dallas.

Gray caught the tying TD at the goal line and then was stripped of the ball by cornerback Pat Fischer. At first, the play was ruled incomplete but after a lengthy huddle, the officials reversed themselves and allowed the touchdown.

Colts 52, Jets 19

Bert Jones hurled three touchdown passes including a club record 90-yarder to Roger Carr, leading Baltimore to its romp over New York. Jones passed for 277 yards before leaving the game with a rib injury.

Oilers 20, Dolphins 19

Coleman broke five tackles and went seven yards for Houston's winning TD against Miami.

Bubba Smith blocked two extra point attempts by the Dolphins' Garo Yepremian, setting the stage for Coleman's winning score.

Steelers 28, Chiefs 3

Pittsburgh won its seventh straight game and took the AFC Central lead for the first time this season by one-half game over Cincinnati, which plays tonight.

Quarterback Terry Bradshaw's 42-yard TD pitch to Lynn Bradshaw gave the Steelers their first points of the game only seven seconds before halftime.

Cowboys 34, Patriots 31

Roger Staubach threw three TD passes but Dallas barely hung on to beat New England. The victory tied the Cowboys with Washington, one game back of St. Louis in the NFC East.

Rams 16, Falcons 7

James Harris passed for 242 yards, 151 to Ron Jessie, as Los Angeles defeated Atlanta. Jessie accounted for the game's only TD on a nine-yard pass from Harris after Tom Dempsey had kicked three field goals for L.A.

But the Rams, three games in front in the NFC West, needed two dropped passes in the end zone by the Falcons' Haskel Stanback and Alfred Jenkins to win.

Raiders 38, Browns 17

Ken Stabler hurled four touchdown passes, leading Oakland past winless Cleveland.

The Browns, who dropped their ninth straight, were tied 17-17 with the AFC West Division leading Raiders until late in the third quarter. Then Stabler eased Oakland to its victory.

Eagles 13, Giants 10

Beaten three times on field goals in the final seconds, Philadelphia turned the tables, knocking off the Giants on a 30-yarder by Horst Muhlmann with 28 seconds left to play.

The victory halted a fivegame Eagle losing streak.

49ers 31, Bears 3

Del Williams ran for 106 yards and Steve Spurrier passed for 124 more as

San Francisco whipped Chicago.

Williams became the first 49er back this season to gain more than 100 yards rushing and it marked the first time San Francisco has won two games in a row this year.

Lions 13, Packers 10

Errol Mann kicked a 23-yard field goal with 13 seconds left, giving Detroit its victory over Green Bay. Joe Reed's 48-yard pass to Ray Jarvis with 54 seconds left set up the winner.

Broncos 27, Chargers 17

Steve Ramsey passed for a pair of touchdowns as Denver extended winless San Diego's losing streak to nine games.

The Chargers came from behind, wiping out a 17-3 Bronco lead to tie the score. But then Denver staged a goalline stand, stopping San Diego one yard short of the TD that would have put the Chargers in front.

The Broncos won the game with 10 points in the final period. Jon Keyworth scored from the one and Jim Turner's 46-yard field goal capped the victory.

Raiders Rip Browns, 38-17

OAKLAND (AP) — As a player with the Green Bay Packers, Forrest Gregg was told by the late Vince Lombardi that winning is everything.

"We still have confidence in ourselves and in what we're doing," the first-year coach of the Cleveland Browns said Sunday.

But all Gregg's Browns are doing this season is lose, standing 0-9 after a 38-17 setback to the Oakland Raiders. The coach's confidence-maintaining job is a big one.

Ken Stabler's passes riddled the Cleveland defense for 220 yards and four touchdowns. Clarence Davis picked up 120 of Oakland's 217 rushing yards, scored two touchdowns and opened the game with a 64-yard kickoff return.

"They tried a little bit of everything against our passing," Raiders Coach John Madden said, adding that some of it worked, especially strong pass rushes which led to one sack and an interception.

"Fred Biletnikoff did a great job," said Stabler, who hit the 11-year veteran receiver six times for 73 yards. Biletnikoff caught a 15-yard touchdown pass late in the third period which broke a 17-17 tie and acted as a decoy on several other long gainers.

"On my first touchdown, Freddie came back and brought two defenders with him to clear the whole area," said Cliff Branch, who caught touchdown passes covering 22 and 21 yards in the first half.

Cecil Cooper of the Boston Red Sox led the American League's designated hitters in 1975 with a .318 average.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.
FOR TUESDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): In spite of certain challenges and some opposition from the top, don't let your optimism run down. You are on the right track — as others will see later.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Don't let rumors and idle speculation cause you to become restless and (or) indecisive. Carry out your plans as scheduled. Things should turn out well.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Dealings with close associates may not be entirely satisfying, but those with persons at a distance could be extremely successful — especially if finances are involved.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): An unpleasant domestic situation should be clearing up now, so take a breather. A few hours of relaxation will dispel any lingering "clouds" and put your mind at ease.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): You may have to make an important business decision. Weigh all factors carefully and state your decision clearly so there will be no misunderstandings.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Some puzzling situations indicated. As with Gemini, however, certain persons at a distance could help you find solutions.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Do not pay much attention if associates seem difficult. Many persons are "edgy" now, so don't take unseemly action personally.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): You are one of the few in a position to take strong and progressive action now, but be careful not to make too many waves. A certain amount of discretion needed.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): If you are not sure how to move in a certain situation, best off action for a while; you are not likely to be rescued through luck.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A more or less routine day indicated, but give some time and thought to a project you are planning to launch in the near future. The more planning and preparation the better.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Some family difficulties likely — especially with in-laws. Tact and patience on your part can be instrumental in lessening tensions.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A day in which you could be error-prone, so give careful attention to details — especially in areas where mistakes could hurt you the most.

YOU BORN TODAY have a vibrant, warm personality but are inclined to be extremely temperamental — especially if you feel that your "rights" are being infringed upon. With a strong gift of leadership, you chafe under orders and will probably not remain in a subordinate position for very long. Many fields are open to you in choosing a career, but notably the law, medicine or writing — especially as a dramatist or critic; also the business world, where you could capitalize on your fine organizing abilities. Birthdate of: Alan B. Shepard, U.S. astronaut; Asa Gray, Amer. botanist; Marcello Mastroianni, Ital. film star.

NEW YORK (AP) — George Peppard, the star and chief neurosurgeon of NBC's "Doctors' Hospital," plays a different kind of medicine man tonight in NBC's "Guilty or Innocent: The Sam Sheppard Murder Case."

He portrays Sheppard, the Ohio osteopath whose famous trial and conviction for the murder of his pregnant wife in 1954 led to a landmark U.S. Supreme Court ruling that "virulent publicity" had denied him a fair trial.

In throwing out the conviction, the high court in 1966 placed the responsibility for preventing "trial by newspaper" on public officials, not the press, and put most of the blame for what it called the "carnival atmosphere" of Sheppard's trial on the presiding judge.

Sheppard, who died in 1970 at age 46, claimed during both the trial and his nine years in prison that he was innocent. A Cleveland jury agreed and acquitted him at his second trial in October 1966.

His case and how it affected his life made for absorbing drama, but tonight's three-hour dramatization is anything but that. It follows Sheppard's account of the summer night his wife was slain in the upstairs bedroom of their suburban Bay Village home fronting Lake Erie west of Cleveland.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — George Peppard, the star and chief neurosurgeon of NBC's "Doctors' Hospital," plays a different kind of medicine man tonight in NBC's "Guilty or Innocent: The Sam Sheppard Murder Case."

He portrays Sheppard, the Ohio osteopath whose famous trial and conviction for the murder of his pregnant wife in 1954 led to a landmark U.S. Supreme Court ruling that "virulent publicity" had denied him a fair trial.

In throwing out the conviction, the high court in 1966 placed the responsibility for preventing "trial by newspaper" on public officials, not the press, and put most of the blame for what it called the "carnival atmosphere" of Sheppard's trial on the presiding judge.

Sheppard, who died in 1970 at age 46, claimed during both the trial and his nine years in prison that he was innocent. A Cleveland jury agreed and acquitted him at his second trial in October 1966.

His case and how it affected his life made for absorbing drama, but tonight's three-hour dramatization is anything but that.

It follows Sheppard's account of the summer night his wife was slain in the upstairs bedroom of their suburban Bay Village home fronting Lake Erie west of Cleveland.

A sequence of blurred still photographs, made for the NBC show, are used to recreate Sheppard's contention that an intruder had knocked him unconscious after having beaten Mrs. Sheppard to death.

Then come various phases of the osteopath's ordeal — the media clamoring for his arrest, the "carnival atmosphere" of his heavily-publicized first trial, his life in prison, the arrival of a young lawyer named F. Lee Bailey to win his acquittal and Sheppard's troubled life as a free man.

To move the show along, actors cast as key figures in Sheppard's life — a newspaperman, Bailey and a wrestling promoter — periodically precede various scenes with comments about what they'd thought and felt.

But the show just doesn't move along. It seems oddly flat, uneven and occasionally mawkish, largely because of the directing and acting.

One of the supporting players is Nina Van Pallandt, whose chief claim to fame is her friendship with Clifford Irving, who got in a lot of trouble a few years back with a book concerning Howard Hughes.

In NBC's show, she's woefully miscast as the German divorcee who became Sheppard's pen pal while he was in prison and his second wife (she later divorced him) when he was freed.

But the biggest disappointment is Peppard, who turned in a brilliant acting job in a 1963 war movie called "The Victors" and hasn't seemed able to rouse himself to that level since.

His effort tonight appears a mixture of ham and Banacek. Save for a prison scene where he belts an inmate who wants him to get drugs from the prison hospital, he just doesn't seem believable.

Which is a pity, not only for Peppard but also for a show that should have proved engrossing, considering the subject matter.

Industrial Nations Promise Jobs

RAMBOUILLET, France (AP) — Leaders of the world's six major industrial nations including President Ford today ended three-day talks with a promise of more jobs, lower prices and greater economic security for their people.

A declaration in the names of U.S., West German, Italian, French, British and Japanese leaders said: "The industrial democracies have decided to resolve the high rate of unemployment, continuing inflation and the grave problems of energy."

The leaders said they had set out to identify the problems besetting their countries and to chart the course they must follow in the future toward prosperity.

A conference spokesman said negotiations at this first international economic summit conference, held at the 14th century chateau of Rambouillet 28 miles southwest of Paris, were "precise, fruitful and in depth."

On Sunday the leaders reached tentative agreement on stable currency exchange rates and to press for new tariff cuts. Their aides went to work on a statement calling for a renewal of near-stalemated trade negotiations in Geneva and adoption of guideposts for currency exchange rates.

The agreement on exchange rates, aimed at ending a long dispute between the United States and France, was expected to establish limits within which currency values could vary in international money markets without the central banks buying or selling to control the rate of exchange.

President Ford said he was "confident we can find a way to wrap up this issue," his economic coordinator,

L. William Seidman, told newsmen.

France wanted to return to a system of fixed exchange rates but recently relaxed its stand. The United States had held out for freely floating exchange rates, but Seidman said Washington would not object if other nations tried to keep the rates for their currencies within set limits "as long as we are free to follow floating exchange rates."

Ford told the other heads of government Sunday that the United States would welcome foreign investment in new U.S. energy projects and promised to export a portion of the output wherever possible.

Seidman said there is no present barrier to members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries investing in American energy programs and claiming part of the payoff.

Seidman said Ford also discussed New York City's financial plight Sunday. The White House aide gave no details but indicated the President talked about the conditions under which he would be willing to endorse federal aid for the city.

Glenn Praises Compromise On Energy Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John H. Glenn, D-Ohio, called the energy bill approved last week by congressional conferees "compromise at its very best" Sunday and predicted that President Ford would sign it.

Glenn, a member of the Senate-House committee which approved the bill, praised the agreement worked out between the Democrat-controlled Congress and the Republican administration.

"The bill is a compromise all the way through—meaningful, workable compromise," Glenn said.

"The President backed off on some pricing demands, but we in turn gave him more flexibility than some colleagues in the Senate and House wanted to give him," the senator said.

He added that he felt both sides gave more ground than many expected them to.

If signed by President Ford, the bill would establish a national energy policy and would resolve a 10-month partisan impasse between Capitol Hill and the White House. Economists predict it would result in an immediate 3.5-cent cut in the cost of a gallon of gasoline or heating oil.

Glenn said the most immediate effect of the compromise measure would be its pricing mechanism. But "some of the conservation features and the automobile standards that aren't effective until the late 1970s or early 1980s may be very, very effective once they're in place," Glenn said.

Glenn said it "would be a tragedy if the President does not sign it," and added that he believed the bill would be signed some time next month after it passes both chambers.

"We kept in touch with the administration to get its input on it to come up with something we believed the President would not feel he had to veto," he added.

"I think we have that bill now."
